DEMOCRATS KNOCK OUT SMASHING VICTORIES

New York, New Jersey and Ohio State Swing Into 'Demmy' Column

Empire and Buckeye States Elect Dem. Governors by Surprising Majorities; Control of Congress is Menaced; Enemy Captures President's Home Town and County.

The election results in the country at large, Tuesday, proved anything but heartening to the Republicans. The great Republican landslide of 1920 has been all but reversed.

Although it is believed that the Republicans will control congress, belated returns may change the situation any hour. Swinging back with a tremendous reversal of the trend in 1920, the political pendulum has carried the Democratic party into a commanding position in national affairs.

Men who have stood close to President Harding and who as members of congress actively helped make effective the Harding policies were swept from power and Democrats have taken their place. Latest returns indicate that if the Democrats have not captured the House they have reduced Republican control to a remarkable degree, while in the Senate Republican control has been reduced from 24 to 14.

With New York delivering the biggest smash by the election of Alfred E. Smith, governor, and the entire Democratic state ticket by majorities ranging from 250,000 to 500,000, there comes the news of the election of a Democratic governor in Ohio, the capture of President Harding's home town and county by the Democrats; the defeat of Beveridge in Indiana by former Governor Ralston, Democrat; the re-election of Senator Reed, Democrat, in Missouri; the near defeat of Senator Lodge in Massachusetts; the election of Governor Edwards, Democrat of New Jersey, to the senate, over Senator Frelinghuysen, the president's personal choice; the defeat of Mondell, Republican congressional leader, in Wyoming; the defeat of Republican Senator Duffont of Delaware, by Bayard, Democrat; the retirement of Senator Frances, Maryland Republican; the unseating of Senator Townsend, Michigan, by a Democrat running on an anti-Newberry platform; the deliberate overthrow of Senator Sutherland, Republican of West Virginia, with practically every Democratic candidate in that state proclaimed a victor; the election of a Democrat for governor of Rhode Island; and last, but by no means least, the return of Victor Berger, Socialist, to congress from the Milwaukee district over Republican and Democratic opposition—all this tells a tale the like of which looks very much like that of 1920, only it isn't.

In all this sad mess Pennsylvania is the only gem of purest ray serene. What caused it? Ask of the winds.

That the "wet" and "dry" issue played an important part in the election in several states, is attested by the election of Governor Edwards of New Jersey, to the U. S. senate on a wine and beer platform; positive indorsement of the platform of the Democratic party of New York, which declared for modification of the Volstead act, and a neck and neck race between Ohio "drys" and "wets" over the adoption of a beer and wine amendment to the state constitution.

From the fact, however, that Ohio has elected a Republican senator in the person of Dr. Simeon D. Fess, over Atlee Pomerene, the present incumbent, by 15,000 majority, and a Democratic governor by 50,000 majority, the question as to whether President Harding's policies have been upheld or discarded is one that affords good grounds for argument.

HON. GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Governor-Elect of Pennsylvania.

DEATH OF THOS. H. PURTLE POPULAR FELLOW CITIZEN SHOCKS ALL SMETHPORT

Thomas Henry Purtle, resident of Smethport for 10 years, leading hotel proprietor for 17 years and owner of the Grand Central hotel, one of the leading hostelries of Northwestern Pennsylvania, died at the Homeopathic hospital, Buffalo, Monday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock, following an attack of pneumonia which developed while he was recovering from a minor operation.

The news of Mr. Purtle's death came as a terrible shock, not only to his immediate relatives and friends, but to every resident of Smethport as well, who knew him as a genial fellow citizen, ever kindly disposed, and a business man of sterling integrity.

Mr. Purtle entered the Homeopathic hospital at Buffalo, Monday, October 16, seeking relief from an ailment which had troubled him for several years. Although his affliction was not regarded as serious, two operations were necessary, from the effects of which he was making remarkable headway towards health, when pneumonia developed and defied the efforts of the highest skilled physicians to combat it.

With the knowledge that the end was approaching, Mrs. Purtle, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Carlson, left for Buffalo, early Sunday where they were joined by William Purtle, a brother, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Miss Margaret Purtle, a sister, of Great Bend, Pa., all of whom were at his bedside when he passed away.

Mr. Purtle was 69 years of age. He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind husband and an indulgent father and brother, his wife, one daughter, Mrs. C. H. Carlson of Smethport; one son, Frank Purtle, of the home; three sisters, the Misses Margaret, Katherine and Ella Purtle, of Great Bend, Pa., and one brother, William Purtle, of Binghamton, N. Y.

A native of Great Bend, Susquehanna county, Pa., Mr. Purtle's first acquaintance with active life was that of a blacksmith, in which trade he engaged when he came to Smethport 40 years ago. Subsequently he engaged in various lines of endeavor, finally taking over the old Commercial hotel, the building now occupied by the Smethport Steam laundry, for which business he revealed remarkable adaptability. Here he continued in business for eight years, when nine years ago he purchased the present Grand

BIG SEDAN BOWLS OVER LIGHT POLE & HYDRANT IN AWFUL CRASH, SUNDAY

W. C. Guncheon, wife and two children, in a new Cadillac sedan, and John A. Karlen and son, Paul, in a Chevrolet car, were the principals in a terrifying auto collision last Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the Guncheon car crashed into the Karlen auto when the latter entered East Main street from Fulton on its way up hill toward King street.

When the crash came the Guncheon sedan not only turned the Karlen car almost completely around, but, swerved in its course, struck the high sidewalk in front of the pos. office with such force as to lift it bodily onto the walk, where, gaining additional momentum, it bowled over the big electric light standard on the corner, and followed up the action by breaking off a fire hydrant flush with the pavement.

The noise of the collision with the electric light standard, attended by the noise of breaking glass, was heard by practically everyone in the block and brought a crowd to the scene in record time. Mrs. the crash occurred and in the excitement of the moment evidently Guncheon was driving the car when had "stepped on the gas," giving the machine sufficient momentum to mount the sidewalk. Quickly realizing the situation, Mr. Guncheon, with rare presence of mind, grasped the steering wheel and stopped the car. His prompt action no doubt saved his family from serious injury.

Examination of the two cars revealed a badly broken running-board on the Karlon car and a ruined bumper and dented lens frame on the Guncheon sedan. How both cars escaped absolute ruin, and how the occupants escaped injury is a mystery.

According to Paul Karlen, he did not observe the approach of the Guncheon car until he had entered Main street from Fulton. Realizing the danger, he attempted to sound his horn, but just as he was about to press the instrument the crash came.

It is believed that $100 will cover the damage to both cars. Eyewitnesses of the crash agree that neither car was exceeding the speed limit.

MANAGER BACKUS PLANS TO SURRENDER HIS JOB WITHIN NEXT 4 WEEKS

With the announcement that the electric light, heat and power plant for Smethport was about completed and that only a few minor details remained, Borough Electrical Manager Backus gave notice of the termination of his services at council meeting last Monday night, agreeing, however, to continue supervision of the work that remained throughout the month of November and without pay.

Following announcement of the end of his stewardship Mr. Backus briefly outlined the work accomplished to date and made some very optimistic predictions concerning the future of the plant. He said that there were but four or five more city lights to install and that he was engaged in making a chart for the switch house, by means of which a strict record would be kept when lights were turned on and off; that provision had been made for the reading of the supply station meter every day at noon, by which means every kilowatt would be recorded, thus enabling council and city officials to know just what the plant is doing and costing. By this means, he stated, council can regulate the hours the streets lights may burn in strict accord with the money available for that purpose.

Continuing, Mr. Backus stated that up to the first of November the borough had sold $219 worth of electricity, from which sum a trifle over $100 was paid the Ridgway corporation supplying the

McKean County Goes Republican for Every Candidate Save One

Moore Defeats Gustafson for Assembly; Bradford Boasts of Putting Crimp in Soldiers' Memorial Project; Elisha Kent Kane Shows Marvelous Sprinting Ability.

With but one exception—that of Oscar E. Gustafson, for the assembly—every candidate on the Republican ticket was given a substantial majority by McKean county voters, Tuesday. Maxwell J. Moore in defeating Gustafson, proved the biggest election surprise. With the aid of the Prohibition party and a number of disgruntled Republicans who swallowed the story that Mr. Gustafson, a life-long Republican was a Socialist, Moore trotted under the wire a winner by a majority of 172. Now that the skies have cleared and reason holds sway, it may not be amiss to say that, Mr. Moore, a member of a labor union committed to the Plumb plan of government ownership and control of the railroads and other public utilities, the greatest Socialistic scheme ever evolved in this or any other country, was the only candidate of Socialist proclivities in the race.

Swoope for congress carried McKean county by a majority of 1,066; Clearfield by 500 and Cameron by 500. Center county, however, was lost to Mr. Swoope by a majority of 200 for Snyder, his opponent. Swoope's majority in the district is estimated at 2,460.

Elisha Kent Kane, Prohibition candidate for congress, proved himself a sprinter of the surprising variety by polling 1,823 votes.

Pinchot, for governor, swept McKean county to the tune of 2,500 majority, with the Republican candidates for the United States senate, candidate for secretary internal affairs, and judge of Superior court accorded nearly similar majorities.

By reason of intense opposition in Bradford, Eldred and Port Allegheny, the proposed bond issue to provide funds for the building of a memorial hall in Smethport in honor of the soldiers, sailors and marines of the county, was defeated by an overwhelming majority, estimated at 600 to 700. The opposition of Bradford especially was intense, that city conducting a bogus campaign for a memorial building to be built by popular subscriptions several weeks prior to the election for the sole urpose of defeating the legal proposal.

The home rule amendment to the constitution is believed to have been successful by from 1,500 to 2,000 majority.

Official returns from McKean county will not be divulged until the latter part of the week.

An exceedingly light vote was cast in Smethport borough, Tuesday, and as a result thereof Maxwell J. Moore, Democratic candidate for the assembly, received 31 votes more than Oscar E. Gustafson, his Republican opponent. In all other instances the Republicans were victorious. An added feature was the overwhelming vote in favor of the Memorial building project, the result showing 450 yeas to 6 nays.

The proposed amendment to the constitution pertaining to home rule for cities and boroughs, carried by a vote of 221 to 21.

The vote in detail follows:

U. S. Senate, term ending March 4, 1923—Reed, R., 320; Van Essen, Socialist, 5; Rachel C. Robinson, Prohibition, 41; Davis, Single Tax, 8.

U. S. Senate, term beginning March 4, 1923—Reed, R., 309; Shell, D., 143; Sehl, Socialist, 4; Robinson, Pro., 37; Burke, Prog., 5.

U. S. Senate, term ending March 4, 1927—Pepper, R., 318; Kerr, D., 146; Van Essen, Soc., 4; Lewis, Pro. 28; Thompson, Prog., 2; Robinson, Single Tax, 1.

Governor—Pinchot, 309; McSparren, 182; Wilson, Socialist, 4; Repp, Pro., 16; Dix, Single Tax, 1.

Lieutenant Governor — Davis, 302; Pattison, 184; Coleman, Soc., 4; English, Pro., 33; Noren, S. T., 1.

Secretary Internal Affairs—Woodward, R., 306; Thompson, D., 149; Winsor, Soc., 4; Broomell, Pro., 36; Dunbar, Prog., 1.

Judge Superior Court—Gawthorp, R., 296; Niles, D., 149; Palmer, Pro., 39.

Congress—Swoope, Republican vote 254, Socialist vote 5, total 259; Snyder, D., 159; Kane, Pro., 96.

Assembly—Gustafson, Republican vote 234; Socialist vote 4, total 238; Moore, Democratic vote 236, Prohibition vote 33, total 269.

NORWICH TOWNSHIP BOASTS OF FIRST STRICTLY FEMALE ELECTION BOARD IN AMERICA

The First district of Norwich township, McKean county, bears the proud distinction of having the only strictly feminine election board in America. Elected last fall following a determined effort of the women voters to clean up on those of the male persuasion, the five women composing the board faced their first trial in the primary election of last May and did it so well as to win the commendation even of the election officials they ousted.

Wednesday morning the First district of Norwich township was among the first to file election returns with the prothonotary at Smethport. Throughout all of election day the women proved equal to every emergency and revealed 100 per cent. co-ordination, thus fulfilling a promise to "show the men how an election should be run." The women composing the board are: Mrs. Grace Gallup, judge; Mrs. Ella Herzog, majority inspector; Mrs. Grace McKiernan, minority inspector; Mrs. Kate Manwaring and Mrs. Eva Herzog, clerks.

Driftwood—A bad accident marked the opening day of hunting season when Walter Grinnell and Oscar Leonard, of Driftwood, were shot by Charles Dougherty, also of Driftwood, who aimed at a rabbit and hit the two young men who were resting on the ground. Grinnell received most of the charge of shot in his abdomen and hip and was taken to the Williamsport hospital accompanied by Dougherty who is much concerned over the accident. Leonard received several of the shot in his arm and was attended by a local physician.

Emporium—Two black bears were shot in Cameron county on the opening day of hunting season, one on the Driftwood branch and one at Sizerville. M. L. Fryer, of Titusville, lowered a 150 pound bruin on the Driftwood branch, Tuesday morning. Lloyd Altland, of Dillsburg, got the other one at Sizerville which weighs around 175 pounds.

Coudersport—Bert Palmatier of Ford Hill, harvested 999 bushels of potatoes last week from his two and seven-tenths acres which he had planted. Prior to digging his yield he had dug between two and three bushels for eating purposes so that his small acreage yielded him over 1,000 bushels.

Coudersport—Two boxes of cigars popular 30 years ago by the name of "Tate's Success" were found last week by Sylvester Cummings while roofing a house at Costello. This was the old Billy McFall house and there is not the least doubt but that the cigars had been in the partition for over 30 years. Dr. H. B. Knight brought some of them here and in spite of their age they are still a mighty good smoke.

Kane—A couple of hunters found the body of a man in the woods on Campbell's hill, near Kinzua, Wednesday. The body was badly decomposed and is thought to have lain where found for two years. There were no identification marks and there was no indication that the man died other than a natural death.

Port Allegany—Trouble existing in the local football team has been adjusted and a schedule arranged for the balance of the season. Next Saturay Port Allegany will play Galeton at Galeton, at Coudersport November 18 and at Bradford November 25. Last Saturday's game with Galeton was the last home game.

Bradford, where personal registration is required, has 2852 registered voters. Liberty township has 637 voters and Annin township 418 voters.

Ridgway—A large black bear, the first of the season in Elk county was killed Wednesday morning by Bunker Morgetser of Ridgway. The bear will weigh about 500 pounds and is a fine specimen.

Shinglehouse—Shinglehouse citizens are considering installation of a silk plant to cost about $170,000 and to give employment to 30 skilled weavers and other employes. The finances will be handled by local men. If the proposition goes through, some 250 people will be added to the town's population.

Rabbits and Mice.

Fruit trees, especially young ones, are often seriously damaged by rodent pests. Where there is any danger of the trees being exposed to such injury, clear grass and weed growth away from the trunks of the trees and supply a repellant, or use a tree protector to keep the pests away.

Winter Vegetables.

It pays to buy vegetables and fruit in quantity, if you have storage facilities. Buy your potatoes apples, pumpkins, squash, and all root crops while they are cheap and before severe winter sets in.

Shrinkage of Corn.

Corn will shrink from 5 to 15 per cent the first year after husking depending upon its moisture content when husked. In April, May and June, the shrinkage is about twice as great as the total from husking time until April.

High Protein Feeds.

Some high protein feeds are necessary to properly balance corn and oats in profitable milk production. The cow cannot manufacture from carbohydrates the protein that is found in milk in the form of casein and albumin.

How to feel the Egg.

If the hen is going to lay she is examined, the egg may be felt by pressing one finger in above the vent. This is a great aid when culling a flock in the morning.

Corn Silage for Steers.

Feeding trials at the Pennsylvania State College show that the maximum use of corn silage is the most profitable ration for two-year old steers. To get cattle to consume a maximum amount of silage they must be fed all they will eat at the beginning of the feeding period.

Why Not Take a Short Course.

Why not take a short course in agriculture at State College this winter? For those who are unable to spare a longer time for study the eight-weeks' course beginning January 4 and closing March 3, 1923, will be a golden opportunity.

At every turn nature presented obstacles that hindered the construction of the line.

On some places were shallow lakes of brackish water which extended for miles. Hole-digging machines mounted on heavy, horse-drawn trucks were used to facilitate the work.

And the next day it snowed.

Good morning, fellow citizens! Didn't we tell you so?

To the Republicans of New York, New Jersey and Ohio: "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth."

Only 52 days till Christmas. What's your advertising plans, Mr. Merchant? What's your buying plans, Mr. Customer?

The first big snow of the season is reported from Wyoming, but up to the hour of going to press screen doors were still keeping the flies out of Smethport homes.

There are so many alibis and liars in Brunswick, New Jersey, to say nothing of politicians, that the rest of us are beginning to fear that the real murderers never will be caught.

It is officially announced that auto production has fallen off, but it is hard to believe after reading the stories of accidents along the improved roads of McKean county in Monday's papers.

News from "over there" says the good old American dollar is getting into general circulation in Europe, probably because its equivalent in European money is too bulky to carry around.

Now is the best time to offer suggestions concerning Christmas gifts and The Miner is the best paper in which to do it. Why? Because a greater circulation insures a greater advertising value.

It is positively asserted that a hunter in a nearby state killed a man whom he mistook for a duck. He's eligible to the same class at the head of which stands the hunter who mistook another man for a squirrel.

Sam Blythe, the common scold of periodical journalism, complains that congress has played politics with the tariff, with the bonus and prohibition, but we notice Sam is a trimmer himself. He doesn't tell where he stands on any of these subjects. Strange that his bunk can get first place in the pages of the Saturday Evening Post.

The temporary delay in the ship subsidy bill, although sanctioned by President Harding, does not indicate any lack of determination on his part to speed enactment of the legislation. It is highly probable that congress will be called in special session now that the election is over, for the express purpose of considering the shipping bill. It is the hope and expectation of the president that the measure will become a law before financial adjournment of the 67th congress on March 4.

SAY, DO YOU KNOW?

To those Republicans who thought they were slaying a Socialist when they voted against Gustafson: Do you know that Maxwell J. Moore, is a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers and Conductors, an organization committed to the Plumb plan of ownership and control of the railroads of the United States—decidedly the most Socialistic plan ever evolved in this or any other country?

To those Bradford Prohibitionists who gave Maxwell J. Moore a clean bill of health: It may interest you to know that the forces of "personal liberty" joined with you in putting Moore over.

ARMISTICE DAY.

American boys of the great World war, we salute you! The memory of your achievements won in bloody conflict with the arch enemies of civilization will never die. Your brilliant record is known of the world and rightly esteemed by the millions of all nations who sacrified to the limit in behalf of "the war to end war." Despite manifold distressing and disappointing eventualities since November 11, 1918, wherein recurrence to militarism and all that it implies has been manifest by nations pledged to democracy, thoughtful and justice-loving Americans know for what you fought and assure you of their highest appreciation.

Saturday, November 11, which marks the fourth anniversary of the end of the greatest conflict of which history bears record, you will meet in reunion, there to renew your pledges to the principles for which you fought and do honor to the memory of those heroic souls who gave their all to their country. In this, your solemn duty, all true Americans will share, and with the hope that your great achievements have brought the world at least one step nearer to peace on earth, good will toward men.

WHO IS THE ROBBER?

Somebody somewhere is roving the farmer of his legitimate profits, to the detriment of the nation as a whole. With the improved methods of agriculture, and the consequent increase in production, the farmer's profits should be far in excess of what they are today. From one end of the country to the other the consumer continues to pay high prices for farm products, our a small portion of which as a rule goes to the farmer. Who get the difference? Who is lining his pockets at the expense of both the farmer and the consumer? Many official investigations have been started—but are still to be heard from. Many promises have been made—but are yet to be kept. Many people are wondering how long this condition will continue—but they will keep on wondering. Because, as a matter of fact, there appears to be no one with moral, physical and political courage enough to unearth the robbers and give them their just deserts.—Port Allegany Reporter.

A county seat Republican newspaper published in a Democratic county means a large circulation and excellent advertising value.

BILL SAM'S DICTIONARY

By J. L. MARTIN

Slim Longfellow got off something real clever at Shorty Smith's log-rolling last Friday. Slim got enough of home-brewed about having sick headache so limited and came back at the boys by telling them that the reason some folks ever have sick headaches is because they haven't brains enough in their craniums to get sick. Slim thinks so much of his joke he is thinking of having it published several times in the Tangelfil Herald.

SMETHPORT HI LOSES TO CUBA BY 26 TO 6.

Cuba's crack football eleven defeated the Smethport High team at Cuba last Saturday, by a score of 26 to 6. It was an off day for the local boys, who firmly believe that a return date will reveal their superiority. Just what team Smethport will take on this Saturday is not known. Negotiations are on between the St. Bernard team of Bradford and the St. Bonaventures, who opened the season in Smethport.

SOLDIER BOYS PREPARE FOR FITTING OBSERVANCE ARMISTICE DAY SATURDAY

Buckhalt Post American Legion, has made every preparation for the fitting observance of Armistice day Saturday, November 11. The exercises in the main will consist of dedication of the soldiers' monument at East Smethport promptly at 1:30 o'clock p. m., veterans of the World war and Spanish-American wars will form in parade in front of the Post hall and march to East Smethport, preceded by the Smethport band. An excellent patriotic program consisting of a band concert, vocal selections by a male quartet and speeches, has been prepared for the occasion. H. B. Habgood, editor of the Bradford Star, will deliver the dedicatory address.

Following the exercises at the monument the parade will reform and return to Smethport. At 6:30 p. m. the soldier boys and their friends will attend a banquet prepared by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, in the Methodist church. The exercises of the day will conclude with a grand ball at the Lyceum.

The Civic Improvement club of East Smethport extends a cordial invitation to everybody, mothers of the soldier boys especially, to attend the exercises in the afternoon.

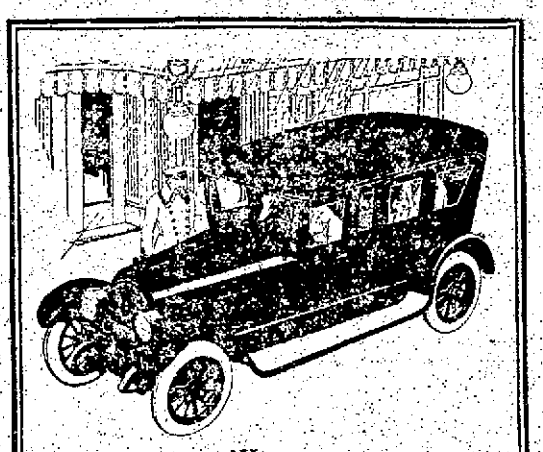
Two Cars in One
For the Price of One
Sedan and Touring Car for Only $3350

Here is something new in motordom—a final development of the two-in-one idea. A Marmon sedan in winter, a Marmon touring car in summer. Yet $1,035 less than a standard Marmon sedan and only $165 more than a standard touring car. No wonder motorists everywhere have welcomed this car and are making it a popular seller.



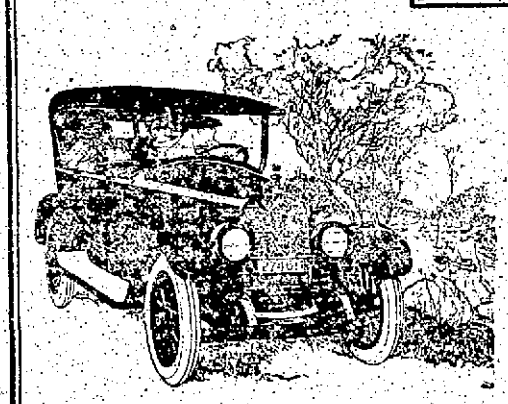
Winter

In 30 Minutes

Think of it—you can convert this 7-passenger Marmon Phaeton to either sedan or touring car in half an hour. But do not be mistaken—do not confuse this with the installation of winter-sides, old fashioned, rattly, unsatisfactory.

The New Marmon Phaeton is a distinct type, a final development and refinement of the convertible idea. From the beginning it was designed by Marmon engineers as a combination car—every detail has been worked out to perfection.

This car solves the eternal question: "Shall I buy a sedan or a touring car?" Now you can have both, yet at a modest price. Snug comfort in winter, open airiness in summer.



Summer

And "It costs so little to drive a Marmon"

Both in maintenance and operation the Marmon is economical, as every owner will tell you. The Marmon of today is the outcome of 20 years of building fine cars, and Marmon owners everywhere agree that they possess the finest form of transportation at the lowest cost per mile.

A new Marmon achievement in design and construction

Marmon designers are first to perfect a convertible car. For years the demand has been growing. First crude winter sides were employed, bought locally, not always fitting the car. They looked badly, they squeaked, they were not weather-tight.

Sensing the public desires, Marmon designers set about designing a body which, from the chassis up, would be easily convertible, one which would be both beautiful and practical.

It took three years to produce a body like this and not until it was perfected was it offered to the public.

Now it is ready, in fact, hundreds are in service throughout the country and owners are delighted.

Inspect it

Forget all the makeshift winter-side attempts you have ever seen. Be prejudiced against them if you wish.

Then see this new Marmon Enclosed Phaeton. See how cleverly Marmon designers have combined art and engineering, how they have succeeded in producing a body which in winter is a real sedan, yet which in summer is a real touring car.

Note the way many problems have been solved. For instance, sit in the back seat. As a sedan, you have the vision and comfort of a standard sedan. As a touring car, you have a wider, less obstructed vision than ever, due to the newly developed Panorama Top.

Look at the car from a distance. Note its new low lines, its added grace and beauty, its smart appearance.

And remember that the price for this remarkable convertible car is only $3,350—think of all you get at about the touring car price, and how much you save from the standard sedan price.

Worthy of the chassis

Remember, also, that this Marmon-designed and Marmon-built body is mounted on the famous Marmon chassis, the most dependable, the most enduring, the most economical chassis ever built.

This is the same chassis which is used with all types of bodies, even for the costly, exclusive custom-built bodies that have given the Marmon such international distinction.

This is the chassis which a nation-wide survey shows to cost so little for maintenance—only $4.35 per month. This is the chassis which has made such wonderful records for dependability and freedom from attention.

Come and see this enclosed Phaeton and prepare to be surprised. It is bound to claim your admiration, as it has thousands of wise motorists everywhere. Bring the family. Let us take you out on a demonstration trip.

Firemen Pull Out a Rat.

Many funny requests come over the phone of the newspapers and to the phone "information," but a new one was sprung recently in Marblehead, when the phone rang at the Franklin street fire station and a hysterical voice called for the department to come immediately to Circle street as a most peculiar crackling noise had been heard all night in one of the rooms.

The firemen rushed into their coats and boots with a vision of something doing in the smoldering fire line. On arrival no signs of fire could be discovered and the woman, much agitated, showed the men whence the noises came. Armed with axes and picks they assaulted the dresser, from which the noises issued and after a stubborn struggle managed to subdue a good sized rat in a drawer of said dresser. The woman was grateful to the firemen, who now feel qualified to fight pests, lizards or any walking creature as well as the fire fiend.—Salem News.

McKEAN HUNTERS KEEP LICENSE CLERK BUSY.

Four thousand, six hundred and fifty hunters' licenses have been issued to date, with applications continuing at the rate of 50 to 100 daily, was the word that came from Treasurer McCann's office, Wednesday. During the past week hunters have penetrated practically every nook and cranny of McKean county, and as a result many Smethportians are indulging themselves in rabbit, deer and b'ar meat.

SELECTION OF DAIRY HEIFER

Head Is Excellent Index to Breeding, Quality and Value of Animal—Other Points.

A great amount of information can be obtained from a study of the head of the heifer calf. The head is an excellent index to the breeding, quality and value of the animal. The eye should be large, bright, clear, indicating good health; the face should be medium in length, free from fleshiness, showing an expression which the true dairyman cannot refrain from calling "sweet"; the nostrils large and well dilated to allow for the entrance of plenty of air; the muzzle large and broad, indicating a good feeder, and the jaw should be strong.

The constitution can be judged in part by standing in front of the heifer calf. We do not like a calf that stands with the front legs close together. This is an indication of poor constitution. The legs should be straight and wide apart, making room for a wide chest floor.

The calf should be examined next from the side. The neck should be neat, slim and medium in length. A short, thick neck is desired on the beef animal, but upon the dairy animal it is never associated with good dairy type or high milk production. The neck should blend nearly into the shoulder which should be rather spare in flesh and come to a point at the withers.

The above is from bulletin 193-A, "The Dairy Heifer and Her Calf," by Excellent Type of Dairy Heifer.

D. W. Fairbanks, just issued. Copies may be had free on application to the extension service, Colorado Agricultural college, Fort Collins. While the bulletin was written primarily for use of members of Calf clubs, the information will be of interest also to adults who are beginners in dairying.

CLEANING MILKING MACHINES

Suggestions Prepared by Dr. A. F. Hanna for California Department of Agriculture.

The following suggestions for cleaning milking machines were prepared by Dr. A. F. Hanna, field veterinarian for the California department of agriculture:

1. When through milking run warm water through tubes.

2. Thoroughly brush with hot water and washing compound all parts with which the milk comes in contact.

3. Place tubes, etc., in water which has reached the boiling point and permit them to remain therein for 30 to 60 minutes. Do not resort to further boiling.

4. Place tubes, etc., in brine and chloride of lime solution and death three to five minutes before the next milking period. They will then be ready for use.

Small top pails are used for stripping the cows.

The four main points (1, 2, 3 and 4) are observed daily in the morning and only the third point is omitted in the evening.

KEEP DAIRY UTENSILS CLEAN

First Thoroughly Rinse With Warm Water and Then Brush Well Inside and Out.

Clean all dairy utensils by first thoroughly rinsing them in warm water, then scrubbing inside and out with a brush and hot water in which a cleaning material has been dissolved. Then rinse and finally sterilize by boiling water or steam. Use pure water only.

After cleaning keep utensils inverted and in pure air and sun if possible, in all worked for use.

DISPOSE OF BOARDER COWS

What Plan to Sell Any Animal That Does Not Pay for Feed What They Should Yield.

Sell the boarder cow which doesn't pay for the hay you buy for her. Grade Jerseys giving less than 3,500 pounds, Guernseys giving less than 4,000, and Holsteins giving less than 5,000 pounds of milk in a year don't pay for their feed.

A Fly Spray.

The ravages of flies in the dairy barn can be materially checked by sprinkling the cows with a fly spray. A number of good sprays are on the market.

Keep Fowls Separated.

Keep growing chicks and laying hens separate throughout the summer.

Maintained for Revenue.

In these days cows are maintained for revenue only.

THE SHERO

By EDNA S. KNAPP

© 1922, by Edna S. Knapp, Newspaper Syndicate.

Great-Aunt Perminnah is little, but my sakes! she's brave as brave! She never dresses up and she longs to go to some charity place, only Lady-Fair won't let her, and she wants to do Molly's work, and her face looks wrinkled like the monkey's at the park. But Great-Aunt Perminnah is a shero; even Lady-Fair says so now.

We had a big, bangy storm last night that put out the lectric lights and unfixed the telephone and kept Lady-Fair home from a party.

We all went to bed early, 'cause there wasn't anything else to do. I went right to sleep, of course. Sometimes I wake up towards morning, and hear great-aunt move 'round in her room next to me, and then slip tiptoey-soft downstairs to work for a while before the servants get up. We sleep in the tiptop of the house where Molly and John do. Dad and Lady-Fair, my pretty second mother, and Ronald Percival sleep on the second floor. Ronald Percival is pretty nearly grand now, and he has a starched nurse who lets me and great-aunt take care of him while she talks to folks she knows, instead. Lady-Fair says there's no reason children should be a nuisance and upset her bridge-playing.

This morning Great-Aunt Perminnah tiptoed down early and easy to sweep off the maple leaves that pile up so fast on the front steps. Maybe I went back to Dreamland for a minute, then I came back to Huldana quick enough. I couldn't imagine what had happened, but 'twas a noise big enough to wake me.

Next I heard somebody scream. There were noises coming from outdoors, too; shrieks and groans and shouts, and great-aunt was talking to daddy loud enough so she could hear herself.

Then, too, there was a crackling and a singeing smell, and light like a dozen candles coming from baby's room. I hurried in there, and he was crying with some crinkly flames just climbing up his crib sheets. I slammed down his window, grabbed him, shut his door and tumbled downstairs.

"Fire," I shrieked as I reached where the front door had been.

Daddy went back then to a hole in the roof and gave fast directions to the men that began to crowd—neighbors, a policeman, the doctor, and lots of undressed-up men from the factory houses.

When daddy told folks what to do, I listened and found what made the big noise and the great hole. Daddy was talking to all the different sorts of folks.

"Yes; the men have been threatening a bomb outrage for some time. Many are dissatisfied. No; I am not, in the least surprised. Careful, there, moving that fellow, men; he's dreadfully hurt, but still alive. The other one was done for when I first came out. What saved the whole front of the house? Certainly, the bomb was big enough. Why, my blessed little great-aunt, here. She's country-bred and gets up early."

"Three-thirty is sure early," said a man who was scribbling on a pad.

"She gets up and comes down to sweep the leaves off the porch and dust and scrub some," I explained as fast as I could, "'cause Molly won't let her later on."

"I found that cigboy thing on the steps and spied one critter logging it for that car, so I flipped the thing at the car quick as I could. It went bang and threw me clear across the hall and busted my glasses," finished Aunt Perminnah.

"The bomb blew the porch off and made that cavity in the road that the fleeing car dropped into. One man was hurt and one done for. How did the house get afire?" asked the pencil-man, scribbling like mad.

"Sure, lighted a candle to see; baby's window was open and the curtain hit the candle," I stuck in.

"We all rushed out scared to death and left my baby helpless and alone," said Lady-Fair chokily. "But our little girl here heard him cry and brought him down safe, though the room was ablaze."

"He's lying, too," I explained. That seemed all there was to say, but Lady-Fair hugged me for the first thing.

John and the fire distinguishers had hottled the fire out some time ago and we went back into the house and by breakfast time we had calmed down some and got dressed straight. Right after breakfast the unstarched nurse packed her things and went off. Daddy gave great-aunt her choice of rewards, and she chose to go straight away to the Pinelands Old Ladies' home, where folks work if they're able.

Lady-Fair cried a little, but agreed to let great-aunt go, and said we'd come over so often to see her. And then Lady-Fair said she liked me and we'd always be friends on baby's account. She agreed that great-aunt is a shero, and says I'm one, too. 'Course I'm not.

Mothers Will Appreciate This.

Returning home after a few days in the country, we found that burglars had been through our apartment. Drawers of the library table, buffet, dressers, and other pieces of furniture were pulled out and contents strewn over the floor. After serious contemplation of the disordered array of papers, linen, etc., scattered about, small David dryly remarked: "It looks like I had been here."—Exchange.

CLEANING OUT TUBERCULOSIS

Much Interest Shown in Eradication of Disease—Prevalent in Many Eastern States.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In the region that includes the New England states, New York and Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, there is extensive interest in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. At the Eastern states conference on the subject, recently held, much information of value to dairymen and cattle breeders was presented by state and federal sanitary officials. Their estimates, based upon the results of actual tests of a large number of herds, show that in some parts of this area nearly 30 per cent of the dairy cattle have the disease. It seems to be most prevalent in the thickly populated states of Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island, but infection is extensive in New York, New Hampshire and Vermont. Pennsylvania and New Jersey herds have about 9 per cent of diseased cattle, while Maine has only 2.7 per cent.

To these states, as well as many others, tuberculosis is a serious economic problem, but since the disease makes herds unprofitable or greatly reduces their efficiency, it pays to get rid of it. Keeping up a herd of diseased cows is just as hopeless as it is to maintain a factory or other business at a loss from year to year. Many a dairyman in this area has been financially ruined without knowing the real cause.

Since the plan for getting rid of the disease in definite areas has been carried out with such success in so many counties, there is reason to believe that even in the badly infected localities it is possible to eradicate the plague and keep it out.

Value of Purebreds

The value of purebred live stock is most noticeable in those cases in which the capability of the animals is measured most directly. Among farm animals the best illustration can be found in dairy cattle, though careful yearly tests of milk and butterfat production are relatively recent affairs. The enormous differences among dairy cows when given the same opportunity have been brought out clearly in a great number of cases, and these differences are strongly inherited through sire and dam. The average production of purebred and grades is much above the average of all milk cows, which is about 4,000 pounds of milk and 160 pounds of butterfat per year.

SECOND GRADE CREAM CAUSE

Lack of Careful Attention to Separator and Improper Cooling Are Held Responsible.

Does your cream grade number one? If not, it should. Lack of careful attention to the separator and not cooling properly usually causes most second grade cream. Raise the quality of butter by keeping your cream out of the grades below.

Second grade cream consists of cream that is too sour to pass as first, that contains undesirable flavors or odors in a moderate degree, that is foamy, slightly yeasty or slightly stale, or that is too old to pass as first grade cream. All sour cream containing less than 25 per cent of butterfat shall be graded as second grade.

Clean Milking Practices.

Cleanliness in milking should be exercised at all times. Before milking begins the cow's udder and flanks should be wiped off, preferably with a damp cloth, in order to prevent particles of straw or loose hair getting into the pail.

Future of Young Stock.

A great deal depends upon the way the young animal goes through its first winter, as to its future size and value.

Average Dairy Cow Feed.

The average dairy cow should receive 15 pounds of alfalfa hay and some other roughage along with 20 or 30 pounds of silage if available.

Keep the Dairy Cows.

Prospects are bright for the man who holds on to his milk cows. Prices are good and promise to remain good.

Sample Each Cow's Milk.

Take a sample of each cow's milk about three times a month and test it for butterfat with a Babcock tester.

A Spoonful of Purity

One uses so little baking powder in comparison with the other materials used in baking that it always pays to use the best.

For making the finest and most wholesome food there is no substitute for ROYAL Baking Powder. It is made from Cream of Tartar derived from grapes and is absolutely pure.

BRACE UP

WHEN you're feeling rather blue
And the sledding's hard for you;
When your schemes go up the spout
And you're feeling down and out;
When you've shot and scored a miss—
Brace up and remember this:
Those who win are those who try.
So brace up and don't say die.

Swell your chest and try again;
Grit your teeth and smile at pain.
Tackle trouble with a laugh
And you'll cut the dose in half.
Look the world square in the eye;
Buck the line and don't say die.
Laying down is all the shame—
Sit straight up and play the game.

Don't dodge trouble—if you do
It will doubly trouble you.
Meet each task with grit and vim,
Do the square thing, sink or swim.
If you see hard luck draw nigh
Laugh again and don't say die.
Keep your face turned to the light,
Do your best and you're all right.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"BRICK"

LIKE many other expressions which, at first glance, appear to belong to the slang of a very recent period, "He's a brick" dates back to the days of ancient history. Plutarch, being authority for the statement that Lycurgus used it in connection with the defense of Sparta.

The story goes that Lycurgus, being a man of few words, was asked whether Sparta should be inclosed with walls, and replied: "That city is well fortified which has a wall of men instead of brick."

Another historical allusion of the same nature was made when an ambassador from Epirus, on a diplomatic mission, was shown by the king of Sparta over his capital. The ambassador was amazed to see that the city was apparently unfortified and remarked about the matter.

"Indeed," replied the king. "Thou canst not have looked carefully. Come with me tomorrow and I will show you the walls of Sparta."

On the following morning the king led his guest out upon the plains, where his army was drawn up in full battle force. There, pointing proudly to the solid battalions of armed men, he exclaimed: "Thou beholdest the walls of Sparta—every man of them a brick!"

The antiquity of the expression in English may be gathered from the fact that the Ingoldsby Legends contain the following couplet:

"In brief, I don't stick to declare
Father Dick,
So they called him for short, was a regular brick."

Valuable Weather Predictions.

Forecasts recently issued by the British meteorological office predicted ten days of fair weather, probably a record for long distance weather prediction in England. No doubt wireless figured largely in this innovation, which, if found to be tolerably reliable, promises much for the agriculturist and others.—Scientific American.

Central Hotel, which he converted into one of the best public houses in the state.

By reason of a natural genial and accommodating disposition, Mr. Purtle was an ideal hotel man and his fame as a host was not confined by map lines. During his long residence in Smethport he was looked upon as one of the borough's progressive citizens, having taken part in every movement having to do with Smethport's advancement.

Five weeks to the day preceding his death Mr. Purtle visited the bedside of a beloved sister, Miss Mary, at Great Bend, Pa., and was with her when her spirit winged its flight. The death of his sister grieved him exceedingly and no doubt served to weaken him during the final ordeal.

The remains were brought to Smethport Monday evening and taken to the Purtle apartments in the Grand Central Hotel. Throughout all of Tuesday and early Wednesday morning scores of citizens called to offer condolence over the loss of a good friend and neighbor and a foremost citizen.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Elizabeth's Catholic church of which the deceased was a member. Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Father Donahue officiating. Interment was made in Rose Hill cemetery.

juice. For the month of November, he predicted, the borough will sell from $300 to $350 of juice, an amount sufficient to pay the superintendent's salary and other incidentals.

Touching upon the present financial status of the plant, Mr. Backus stated that the electrical department has reserve assets of cash, rebates and money due on ornamental lighting to the amount of $7,700, as of Monday last, and all bills paid.

In conclusion, he stated that he expects to have the acetone factory in East Smethport connected with the supply station and wires run to the county home this week; that the work of rebuilding the acetone plant had progressed so far as to warrant immediate demand for electricity.

Other work of council consisted of the paying of bills and discussing the advisibility of placing dummy policemen in downtown street intersections for the protection of autoists.

SEES TWO BUCK DEER.

Herman Lord of near Colegrove, sighted two buck deer near Bunker hill, Saturday afternoon. From the fact that one of the bucks bore an enormous pair of antlers and walked with a peculiar limp, he judged him to be "Old Crooked Toe," a buck that has frequented this vicinity for several years.

ITALIAN WORKER SHOOTS TWO MEN FULL OF HOLES IN BRADFORD GUN FIGHT

Tony Mussare, formerly of Olean, later of Bradford, charged with felonious assault and shooting with intent to kill Joe Ferracci of Lewis Run and John Catania of Niagaria Falls, following a quarrel in Bradford last Friday, was brought to the County jail by County Detective Allison, Monday. Mussare is held for the next term of criminal court in default of $5,000 bail imposed by Alderman Foley of Bradford.

Fred Mussare, brother of Tony, who escaped during the melee, was apprehended by the police of Olean and was returned to Bradford Tuesday by County Detective Allison. In all probabilities he also will become a guest of Sheriff Robinson.

Following a hot gun fight in Bradford last Friday afternoon, in which four Italians figured, Joe a total of 11 shots that Mussare is Ferracci, alias Joe Murphy, of Lewis Run, and John Catania of Niagaria Falls, were taken to the hospital in a dangerously wounded condition, while Tony Mussare of Olean, who is said to have wielded the gun, was placed under arrest. Fred Mussare, a brother of Tony, who also figured in the gun fight, made his escape and is being sought by the police.

Examination at the hospital revealed that Joe Ferracci suffered a bullet wound in the right breast, one in the left shoulder and a wound on the finger of the right hand, while Cantania's wounds, five in number, showed a perforation of the abdomen, two in the left arm and two in the right hand. The condition of both men was regarded as critical when received at the hospital.

Eye-witnesses of the fight assert that the four men were standing on Davis street, engaged in a heated argument, when Tony Mussare pulled his gun and fired. Fred Mussare also pulled a gun, but no flashes were seen from it. When police arrived on the scene both Ferracci and Cantania were prostrate on the ground, while the Mussare brothers had disappeared. Witnesses of the gun play assisted the wounded men into an auto and rushed them to the hospital.

The police arrested Tony Mussare in Mill street. He admitted the shooting and took the police to the hiding place of his gun, an automatic self-ejector. Five shells were in the magazine, while in Mussare's pockets the police found a shell, making bullets penetrated a panel glass in the door of O'Loughlin's barber shop on Main street and another went through the door of the pool room adjoining the barber shop.

Fred Mussare, who joined his brother, Tony, in making a run for it when the police came in view, made a good getaway, and is believed to have left Bradford. His description has been sent to all surrounding towns.

Tony Mussare, a mild-mannered youth of 22, in his story to the police said that when he came to Bradford from Olean the preceding Monday, in search of work, he met Ferracci and Cantania, who informed him that if he wished to work in Bradford it would cost him $10 every pay day and that he had better come across with the money every week. Wednesday, Mussare said, he found work and phoned his brother in Olean to come on and get a job, which he did. Friday the two brothers were walking down street and met Ferracci and Cantania, when the matter of handing over $10 each pay day again was discussed. An altercation followed and Mussare claims that Ferracci reached for his gun, which caught in his coat pocket, permitting Mussare to beat him to it. Mussare exonerated his brother, claiming that he alone fired the shots.

As a result of the shooting people of Bradford are highly incensed and a movement is on foot to clear the city of all gun toters.

BREAKS BONE IN ARM.

Claire White of the postoffice is carrying his right arm in a sling as the result of a fracture received while playing golf last Saturday. The accident was a peculiar one, in that while making a drive with considerable force his golf stick struck the ground in such a peculiar manner as to react with full force on his elbow, fracturing a small bone. As a result Mr. White will be compelled to nurse the member for several weeks.

It is claimed that an electric induction furnace, which has been under trial for some time in Sheffield, England, solves the problem of making very large steel ingots demanded by modern machinery, because it is as easy to make a 100-ton ingot in this furnace as one of 60 pounds in a crucible. But it is admitted that at present high-grade steels can be made by the electric furnace on a commercially successful scale only in places where power can be obtained at an extremely low cost. Laboratory experiments have indicated that a high-class steel can be made by the electric process from inferior material, but for commercial purposes this is not yet possible.

British Columbia's Timber.

Directly and indirectly the lumber industries of British Columbia represent nearly half the trade and commerce of the province. In 1920 they produced nearly $93,000,000 worth of commercial material and it is estimated that the 1921 output will run well over the $100,000,000 mark. The output in 1920 was approximately 2,000,000,000 feet of wood products, and over 20,000 men were employed to produce this quantity.
